

Procurando caracterizar diversas culturas de jovens e lançando um olhar crítico sobre a sua coexistência foram redigidos e dramatizados dois sketches.

“ This is the first time that I’ve ever been grounded. I helped someone that I thought was especial but he tricked me.

I never thought that I would be in this situation, locked in a room with such different people. Some are scary, others are too serious or too vain or even seatter brained.

However, they ean also be fun, helpful and good friends.

In the end we all share similar dreams, fears and we see the same world in different ways.

Inside each one of us there is a Gangster, a Barbie, a Graffiter, a Goth and even a Nerd.

Birds of a feather flock together... “
